Scranton Breaks Even in the Series with Allentown.

Springfield Takes Two Games from the Erie Blackbirds - Providence Defeats Buffalo with Ease, and Wilkes-Barre Goes Down Before Syracuse-Standing of the Clubs. National and State League Summaries-Base Ball, Bicycle and General Sporting News.

NOTHER week of the championship season in the Eastern league has passed, Providence is playing in superb form and will finish the season the proud possessor of the league pennant, Buffalo and Syracuse are also putting up a stiff article of ball, the former in second place and the latter in third position, seventeen points behind. It is quite probable that Springfield will finish in fourth place, as since her strengthening by several of the old Troy players she is putting lots of giuger into her play. Erie is also playing well, while Scranton, for the reason of its being organized so late in the season, is sur-prising some of the old timers, even though she is beaten in the majority of contests; and should she keep up the progressive work which she has been doing the past week, and with a little home encouragement, will compel the leaders to put on their best playing clothes to vanquish her in future games yet to be played. As it is she is at present keeping abreast with the much landed Wilkes-Barre aggregation, and the coming week should witness the home team move steadily upward and away from the down river brethren. Kelly's Allentown club is too for in the rear to cast even a shadow in the pathway of Scranton this year,

The following table gives the per centages of the clubs, number of games won and lost by each club, and their standing in the league race up to and including the games played Saturday:

GLINTS FROM THE DIAMOND.

The Mulberry Street Stars defeated the Scranton, irs., Saturday afternoon by a score 17 to 10. The Stars challenge any club in the city under 15 years of age. Duffy still leads the National league in batting, with an average of 434. Thompson is second, with 428; Delahanty third, with 425, and Turner fourth, with 407.

The players of the Philadelphia club, outside of Thompson, Delahanty and Turner, with batting averages of .300 per cent. and over, are: Cross, .392; Hamilton, .376; Grady, .344; Clements, .343, and Hallman, .327.

The Scranton club will play in this city all of this week. Today and tomorrow the Eries will be here; Wednesday and Thursday, Buffalo will be our opponents and Friday and Saturday the battles will better they will get. I don't think it will help matters by making changes, and I'm willing to stake my reputation that they will be in the hunt next year."

Gleason requested that he put in against St. Louis on Thursday in order to get re-venge upon Von der Abe. The Browns promptly knocked the Baltimore pitcher out of the box, and Gleason's revenge is postponed for a time. Manager Cabili received word last evening from Secretary Betts, who is in New York, that Fielder Smith of the Louisvilles, has accepted Scranton's terms and will report here for duty tomorrow. Hess, late of Wilkes-Barre, has not yet been signed, but may be today.

Foutz expects his Brooklyn team to do much better work from now on, for in Kennedy, Stein, Lucid and Daub he has four pitchers who ought to give a good account of themselves. The Brooklyn team is a good batting one, and with closer at-tentions to team work and a little better base running Foutz's men should have nothing to fear from any team from the

The fight the Baltimore club is making for the pennant of the National league this season is one of the most remarkable fights in the history of base ball, and shows what young blood will do when properly coached. Brouthers and Robinson are coached. Brouthers and Robinson are really the only old-timers in the field, the others being youngsters picked up here and there. Keeler was not good enough for New York and Brooklyn; Brodle was a Boston and St. Louis cast off; Kellsy was let go by Boston; Jennings was turned down by Louisville; Keitz and McGraw were lassooed from minor league company. This is the first season those men have worked together as a team, and yet they have been in the hunt from the start and are now, when the stretch has been reached, in the front ranks and setting a faster pace than ever. They have disfeater pace than ever. They have dis-posed of the oft-repeated assertion that they would weaken when the pace got hot, and seem to possess unlimited stamina. While it would be a violent surprise to have the Orioles win the flag, still it can-not be denied that they are dangerous every minute of the day.

The Power of the Eye in the Dark. Toward nightfall, as the light grows carce and dim, the pupil of the eye increases to its greatest size so as to catch and absorb all the rays it possibly can. What Makes the Swelling? Opinions have differed as to the cause of the swelling and pain resulting from a gnat or mosquito bite. Some have mainained, in accordance with what has always been the popular belief, that effects of such magnitude could not be produced without the introduction of a poisonous fluid, though they have failed to show that any apparatus exists which would be capable of completely fulfilling such a function. Though this poisonous fluid is itself conjectural, a purpose has been assigned to it, namely, that of rendering the blood more liquid, so that it may the more easily be sucked up. And that some such function would have to be assumed is tolerably certain, since the poison could hardly be regarded merely as an implement of offense, and consequently an advantage to its pos-

It seems scarcely open to question that, apart from some such function for the poison as above, the insects could far more asily obtain the blood they covet and far less precautions would be taken against them if they did not produce any painful results and thus rouse the hostility of their victims, and that, therefore, from that point of view, a poison could not be an advantage. If, therefore, a poison exists, its function must undoubtedly be to facilitate the drawing of the blood and not to serve as a weapon. Influenced by the anatomical difficulties above mentioned, other observers have maintained that no poisonous fluid is in-jected, bue that the laceration of tissues produced by the six minute, acutely pointed and in some cases barbed organs which constitute the borer is sufficient to account for the inflammation and itching. This hypothesis, again, is not without objection. It would appear that the insect sometimes experiences difficulty in getting at the blood it desires, for deep perforations of the skin may be made without drawing blood, and then no swelling occurs and little pain is felt. This certainly appears a formidable difficulty in the way of the latter explanation.-Knowledge.

The Best of Hunters Get Lost.

Stories are told of guides who have dropped sticks into streams to find which way they were flowing, and when the sticks went in a different direction from what they thought was right, disregarding their plain testimony and avowing that the stream was running up hill.

Other stories are told of hunters who have been found frozen to death in the depths of tangled awamps with compasses picked to pieces because they would not point the way the bewildered man thought they should, and so were plainly out of These stories, though individually unreliable, bear witness to a general truth. The fact is, that it is the easiest thing in the world under certain circumstances to become "turned around" in the woods, and no one is exempt from this failing.

Old hands know and understand this fact. It is only the tyros who do not, and who ridicule those who own up to having been lost. And when these scoffers go into the woods themselves, nine times out out of ten there comes a night when they do not turn up at camp. Then there is rejoicing among those who have borne their arrogance, for it is the turn of these to crow, and they who laugh Inst langis best. In a flat, wooded country with the sun obscared and no compass to guide him the Mind Reading for Boys.

Harold Morse's father belongs to a society for "psychical research," and the child has heard a good deal of conversation on the subject of mind reading. His mother is afraid he "thinks and understands too much for a child of his years," His father, however, is not at all

"Now, you wait here a minute," said he, and presently he returned with suspicious ly buiging pockets. His father, in the hall, listened for what would come next. "Now," said Harold, appearing before the class, "you must all think hard. How many apples have I in my pockets? night.

The results of these experiments showed that the use of the electric light at night hastened the maturity of the plants, and the nearer they grew to the light the greater was the acceleration. Lettuce thus treated was sold two weeks earlier than its neighbors on the other side of the partition, although both were planted at the same time. Equally successful results were obtained with other vegetables.— Philadelphia Record.
